Question 1

Command	Description	Examples
Cat	spits out information	cat cars.txt
head	first 10 lines of text	head -10 cars.txt
tails	last 10 lines of text	tails -10 cars.txt
touch	creating a new file	touch forza.txt
mv	moving files to other locations	mv cars.txt forza.txt
tree	files in tree form	tree cars.txt awk
tr	spacing letters within	cat cars.txt/tr -s'/n'
man	manual	man -f ls
ls	list of files	ls cars.txt
cut	cutting sections out	cut -b 1 cars.txt cp
grep	only looking for words that are in quotation marks	grep "blood" dracula.txt
mkdir	making files	mkdir forza5

Question 2

How to work with multiple terminals open?

- when you open one terminal you can open another and put them beside each other making it easier for you to work on both sides

How to work with manual pages?

- using you terminal and using the man command and it will bring up the manual page

How to parse (search) for specific words in the manual page

- you could use grep to look for a specific word within the manual page

How to redirect output (> and |)

- when using the > it can append a file and also redirects an output to a file and the | is a straight pipe

How to append the output of a command to a file

- if the file mentions "file doesn't exist" means that file isn't created

How to use wildcards

- using the star (*) you can search from 0 or multiple characters
- using the question mark (?)you can only search for one character
- using the brackets ([]) you can only use 1 character that is given within the set of characters

How to use brace expansion?

- bracket expansion is useful for example if i did echo {A..D} it will give me {1..4}.